TAKE YOUR PLACE IN LONDON’S MOST EXCITING NEW DISTRICT
WELCOME TO A NEW GLOBAL CITY
London’s new go-to destination

Nine Elms is known as the most exciting regeneration project to take place in the recent history of the capital. This brand new destination will create 20,000 new homes, 25,000 jobs, fantastic office and commercial space, including the US Embassy, as well as leisure facilities, parks and squares.

Add to that, two brand new Underground stations, a proposed new bridge across the Thames to Pimlico, an array of shops, restaurants, bars and cafes and it’s easy to see how Nine Elms is fast becoming an incredibly captivating area. All just moments from the heart of London.

And it’s here that Barratt London is bringing together some of the finest contemporary urban architecture to create Nine Elms Point. This collection of 647 contemporary studios, apartments and penthouses is set across seven buildings and built around more than an acre of private landscaped gardens.

With an exceptional central London location, Nine Elms Point enjoys fantastic Zone 1 transport connections, as well as an array of resident facilities built with 21st century living in mind.
WELCOME TO YOUR PIECE OF LONDON
Nine Elms is one of the largest regeneration schemes in Europe and one of the last areas of central London to be redeveloped. Often referred to as a ‘new global city’, it covers three kilometres of the south bank of the Thames and will include a new cultural quarter that aims to bring the energy, authenticity and edginess that defines a modern city.

Occupying such a prime position on the water’s edge made Nine Elms a truly industrial powerhouse. The building that embodies the area’s industrial heritage is Battersea Power Station. It is still one of the city’s most well-known and well-loved landmarks, a Grade II listed building that creates a spectacular and revitalised backdrop to the Nine Elms regeneration.

Such is the excitement surrounding Nine Elms that a number of prestigious institutions have already made it their future home. The US Embassy will move from Mayfair to its iconic new home in summer 2017, establishing a new diplomatic district with the Dutch Embassy also set to join it. Apple has also announced it will set up its new UK headquarters here, housing around 1,400 staff.

Stretching the entire length of Nine Elms will be a linear park, connecting riverside walkways and cycle paths with a number of wide green spaces and areas for outdoor recreation. New Covent Garden Market, just minutes away, is being rejuvenated and will become the food and flower centre for London housing over 200 stalls.
The development is situated in one of the most convenient locations within Nine Elms. Whether you’re heading to the west end, the city, or beyond, commuting couldn’t be easier.

With Vauxhall station providing national rail and Victoria Line underground services just a short walk away, the Northern Line Extension will add to Nine Elms Point’s existing great Zone 1 transport connections, bringing two brand new Tube stops to provide a fast, high capacity transport link into the centre of London. The original Nine Elms railway station opened in 1838 with steamboats connecting it to the rest of the city. Now 173 years later and sitting right next to the development, the Nine Elms Tube station will breathe new life into the area when it is completed in 2020, reconnecting it to the city once again. A River Bus pier provides services along the Thames from Vauxhall, while bus stops situated at the front of the development also offer speedy routes to Clapham Junction and Central London.

Nine Elms has outstanding leisure facilities to help residents get the most out of their downtime. Battersea Power Station itself will become a local destination for shopping and leisure, featuring a brand new high street, a riverside park and a luxury hotel.

Just down the road and popular among young professionals and families for its café culture and village-like atmosphere, Battersea has a diverse array of shops including butchers and delicatessens, pubs, cafés and restaurants lining a number of prominent high streets.

Northcote Road is a great place to peruse boutiques and independent stores, or meander through the stalls of one of many markets at the weekend. Battersea Arts Centre is a hive of activity, hosting plays, talks and activities for children.

For a little calm and relaxation you can head to the quiet green spaces of Battersea Park, renowned for its Victorian sub-tropical garden, children’s zoo and lakeside restaurant, along with a host of events including its spectacular annual fireworks display and outdoor cinema screenings.

Vauxhall Park, complete with model village, along with the historic Vauxhall Pleasure Gardens, also offer a welcome local retreat.

Home to some of London’s hidden gems
Renowned as a world-class city to study in, London hosts some of the top 10 universities in the world. In fact, over 400,000 students live, study and play here.

Education

Institutions such as University College London and the London School of Economics are just a short journey away. And just over the road in Battersea you will find the Royal College of Art, hailed as the world's finest college for art and design. Catering to every aspect of the arts, students can follow in the footsteps of revered alumni such as David Hockney, Tracey Emin and Ridley Scott.

The Consumer Code

The Consumer Code for Home Builders (“the Code”), which came into effect in April 2010, applies to all Home Builders registered with the UK’s main new Home Warranty Bodies; NHBC, Premier Guarantee and LABC Warranty.

The Code gives protection and rights to purchasers of new Homes. It requires all new Home Buyers to be treated fairly and ensure they are fully informed about their purchase before and after they sign the contract.

The aim of the Code is for all new Home Buyers to:

• be treated fairly,
• know what levels of service to expect,
• be given reliable information about their purchase and their consumer rights before and after they move in, and
• know how to access speedy, low-cost dispute resolution arrangements to deal with complaints about breaches of the Code.

The Code reinforces best practice among Home Builders to encourage a consistently high level of information and customer service. It builds on successful efforts already made by the industry to improve consumer satisfaction in recent years.

The Code covers every stage of the home-buying purchase – pre-contract, exchange of contract and during occupation.

As a 5 star housebuilder we are committed to the Consumer Code for Home Builders. For more information on the Consumer Code for Home Builders please visit www.consumercode.co.uk
